

This is a detailed topographic map of a mountainous region, likely in Italy, showing a town (Ragusa) and surrounding hills. The map features contour lines, a river, and various buildings and infrastructure. The town is highlighted in red, and the surrounding hills are colored in shades of green and brown. The map is oriented with North at the top. The town of Ragusa is located in the lower center of the map, with its name 'RAGUSA' visible. The surrounding hills are characterized by dense contour lines, indicating steep slopes. A river flows through the town, and several roads are shown. The map is a technical drawing with a grid system, and it includes various symbols for buildings, roads, and natural features. The colors used are primarily green for vegetation, brown for terrain, and red for the town. The map is a detailed representation of the landscape, showing the relationship between the town and its environment.
